

Hint for Problem 162

How can you start with a partition of  $k$  and make it into a new partition of  $k + 1$  that is guaranteed to have a part of size one, even if the original partition didn't?