

Hint for Problem 192-b

You might try applying the product principle for generating functions to an appropriate power of the generating function you got in the first part of this problem.