Hint for Problem 261

Once you know where the corners of the square go under the action of an isometry, how much do you know about the isometry?