Hint for Problem 63

The statement of the generalized pigeonhole principle involves the number of elements in a block, so a counting principle is likely to help you.