

Hint for Problem 92

If we have  $n - 1$  circles drawn in such a way that they define  $r_{n-1}$  regions, and we draw a new circle, each time it crosses another circle, except for the last time, it finishes dividing one region into two parts and starts dividing a new region into two parts.